Important Note:

NEVER ADD an already existing author to the PJVS database! FIRSTLY, CAREFULLY CHECK, if this person's data are already in the system (point 1). Re-entering the same authors into the PJVS system (despite their previous existence in the database) will double their accounts and result in problems with the accounts.

Note that the same author may have used different email addresses.

STEP III – UPLOADING ARTICLE FILES

Please upload all the article files. The following files can be uploaded:

1. The manuscript (doc, docx file) – as a complete article should contain all tables, figures, graphs, descriptions of figures and the list of references. Remember, that the total length should not exceed previously assumed values.

You should also upload, as separate files:

2. Description of figures (and tables) - (doc, docx file).
3. Tables (doc, docx file). The Table file should be named according to its number (e.g., Table 1).
4. Figures (jpg, pdf, tiff). The figures should be prepared as plates/sets and each plate/set should be uploaded separately. The authors should avoid large jpg files. Each figure file should be named according to its number (e.g., Fig. 1). The graphs should also be uploaded here (as jpg files) and named according to their number (e.g., Graph 1).

Uploading Particular Files

1. Choose the type of file to be uploaded (Manuscript, Description of Figures, Tables, Figures) from the drop-down ITEM list 1.
2. Click [BROWSE] 2 by the field [ADD OR REPLACE FILE...].
3. In the file selection window – find the particular file (at your storage) and select it 3.
4. Confirm the selected file by clicking [OPEN] 4. The path of the selected file will be shown in the form of the [ADD OR REPLACE FILE...] field (green designation below).
5. Click [ADD FILE] 5 to finally upload the selected file. The successfully uploaded file will occur on the list (red frame in the lower picture).
 - Repeat the whole procedure for each file of your manuscript.
 - Upload files (tables, figures) in the correct order (1-Manuscript, 2-Description of Files, 3-Tables, 4-Figures/Graphs arranged in sequential order e.g., Fig1, Fig2..., Graph1, Graph2...). They can be positioned later using appropriate numbers in the [POSITION] row.
 - Clicking the name of the file on the list enables you to preview the uploaded file.
 - The [Delete] button will remove the file from the system.
6. Click [Save and generate new pdf file] 6 to prepare your PDF file of the manuscript for submission.
7. Click [Ok] 7 to confirm.

Note: The modifications in your article are still available. In the list of articles there is an [EDIT] button–designated in the following sets of screens as **?.

STEP IV – SENDING THE COMPLETE ARTICLE TO THE PJVS OFFICE

The recently added article will appear in the list of all your articles. The status of this article is: “New”.

Note: Under the “New” status the article has not yet been delivered to the PJVS Office and all modifications/corrections are still available using the [EDIT] button [?].

1. Check your recently created pdf file by clicking [Show article file] [1]
 - The additional first page of the manuscript is generated automatically – check whether all the data are filled in correctly (authors institutional addresses, others).
 - Check if the total length of the article (including references, figures, graphs, tables etc.) is 20 pages for an original article, 5 pages for a short communication or 30 pages for review article (the automatically generated first page should not be counted). Remember, that additional pages are extra paid.
 - Pay attention to the order of attached figures/graphs/tables, their completeness, double spaced fonts within the whole article, etc.
 - Check that the literature cited and the reference list is in accordance with the requirements of the PJVS (<http://www.uwm.edu.pl/pjvsci/ifa.html>)
 - Please note that some of the unique symbols/marks (e.g. micro μ) may not be displayed properly. Please leave these as they are and we will deal with them.

IN CASE OF ANY INCONSISTENCIES OR ERRORS FOUND, USE THE [EDIT] [?] BUTTON AND INCLUDE THE REQUIRED IMPROVEMENTS

Sending the final version of the article to the PJVS Office
